

OKLAHOMA RED BERETS

---

Forty years and more we still come back,
Same names in our mouths same road, same track.

Red berets in the frame and tears in our eyes,
We kiss the stone in silence under Oklahoma skies.

We lay flowers by the markers slow and low,
For the brothers who flew first long ago.

And every hand we hold says the same old prayer,
You are still with us you are still there.

When the year runs out and the cold wind calls,
We gather our hearts against the falls.

One family, one sorrow one faithful light,
We carry them home through the night.

Oklahoma Red Berets we remember,
Oklahoma Red Berets we stay together.

In grief, in love we do not part,
Brother by brother heart by heart.

Oklahoma Red Berets we remember,
Oklahoma Red Berets we stay together.

We visit the ones who ache and cannot stand,
Bring soup, bring news, bring hope in a shaking hand.

And at the year-end picnic with the old drums near,
We laugh through the tears and we hold them dear.

Then comes the call we fear the final ride,
We walk with the family side by side.

No one leaves alone here not one face erased,
Every name still living in this place.

From Oklahoma fields to the distant towns,
We answer the roll call when the sun goes down.

Across the nation we find that flame,
One airborne brotherhood still calling our name.

Oklahoma Red Berets we remember,
Oklahoma Red Berets we stay together.,

In grief, in love we do not part,
Brother by brother heart by heart.

Oklahoma Red Berets we remember,
Oklahoma Red Berets we stay together.,

If I fall before you lay me near the rest,
With my red beret folded on my chest.

And sing my name softly let the wind hear through,
I will rise in the memory I shared with you.

Forty years and more, still standing,
Forty years and more, still true loving.

Oklahoma Red Berets we remember,
Oklahoma Red Berets we stay together.

In grief, in love we do not part,
Brother by brother heart by heart.

Oklahoma Red Berets we remember,
Oklahoma Red Berets we stay together.
